RIO GRANDE FLOOD OPERATIONS CONTINUE

The International Boundary and Water Commission, United States and Mexico, continues flood operations at Amistad Dam, Falcon Dam, and in the Lower Rio Grande Flood Control Project.

Operations described in the U.S. Section's statement of July 8 remain in effect. The Commission continues to evaluate data regarding conditions in the Rio Grande Basin; any change in releases from the dams will be posted at www.ibwc.gov. Residents in communities along the Rio Grande should monitor National Weather Service warnings and forecasts for any updated information about flood conditions.
